Awarded OSEO “Innovative Company” label

Now eligible for innovative technologies investment funds

In early December, the Oeneo group, worldwide market leader for barrels and high value-added closure solutions, was acknowledged as an Innovative Company by Oseo, the French agency for innovation.

The certification is an acknowledgement of the innovative nature of the products, the processes and the offering technics developed by the Oeneo group, especially in the design of its Diams premium closures with patents related to the cork cleaning or to the cork moulding.

With this certification, innovative technologies investment funds (FCPI or Fonds Communs de Placement dans l’Innovation) can now buy Oeneo group equity. The Oeneo group can, therefore, potentially open its capital to new institutional investors with long investment horizons.

“We are proud to have obtained this certification, which rewards our R&D efforts and the innovation we have regularly achieved over the last years in our markets, in both the barrels and closures sectors,” said Mr Marc Hériard Dubreuil, Oeneo group Chief Executive Officer
