Reorganization project of the Unda company activities in Belgium

During the works council held on June 4, 2013, Unda has announced its intention to reorganize its activities in order to ensure the development of homeopathy in Belgium.

It is planned to create two different companies in order to develop Unda medicines and Boiron medicines independently.

It is also planned to look for a buyer able to sustain the activity of Unda in Belgium and abroad.

This project, likely to have social effects on the two Belgian sites, could affect around 60 employees over 194.
