WALLIX TRIUMPHS AT COMPUTING SECURITY AWARDS 2016!

WALLIX HAS WON THE PRESTIGIOUS “BEST IDENTITY AND ACCESS MANAGEMENT OF THE YEAR” AWARD AT THE 2016 COMPUTING SECURITY AWARDS.

The award was presented to WALLIX during an awards ceremony held in London the on October 13. WALLIX was also named finalist in the “Editor’s Choice” category. The annual Computing Security Awards are organized by a panel of industry experts, with winners in each category determined by reader votes.

Judges of the Computing Security Awards were impressed by the easy-to-deploy architecture of WALLIX ADMINBASTION Suite, a new solution launched at the beginning of 2016 that secures access for privileged users and protect strategic assets. WALLIX’s Bastion provides a unified view with centralized policy-based identity management for all identities, including privileged identities and entitlements to ensure compliance with an organization’s access policies and regulatory requirements. The new product integrates password management, access management, super-user management, and comprehensive session recording into a single platform available via a web portal.

“We are delighted to be recognized once again by the Computing Security Awards,” said Jean-Noel de Galzain, CEO of WALLIX. “This ‘Best Identity and Access Management’ award is particularly gratifying because it is voted on by IT experts who have experiences in deploying security solutions. Thanks also to our WALLIX ALLIANCE PARTNERS program, our bastion is made for seamless integration into existing environments with an easy provisioning and synchronization with central Identity Access Management. This new international award validates the performance of our bastion. We are proud to share this award with all our customers who chose to trust us.”
