ODIOT Holding announces the launch of a straight bond issuance to support its growth and enhance its exceptional historical assets

Paris, May 5, 2025 at 4:30 p.m.

ODIOT Holding (Euronext Access, FR0004152700 – MLODT), the reference shareholder of ODIOT, an iconic French luxury silversmith and goldsmith since 1690 and supplier to royal courts, announces the launch of a bond issuance of €1 million and $1 million.

This non-dilutive fundraising aims to support the development of the house of ODIOT and to perpetuate its unique expertise, by financing three priority areas:

- The creation of strategic reserves of precious metals (silver and gold bullions), in order to anticipate demand and guarantee optimal delivery times;
- Optimization of industrial tools, to improve production efficiency and support the anticipated growth;
- The inventory and restoration of the House's historical archives, true witnesses to its artistic and cultural heritage.

Gilles-Emmanuel Trutat, Chairman and CEO of ODIOT HOLDING, said: "In an unstable macroeconomic environment, we believe it is necessary to build up reserves of precious metals, as ODIOT pieces are mostly made of solid silver and vermeil. It is also important to enhance the value of the invaluable archives we hold with non-dilutive financing for shareholders."
