Groupe Eurotunnel to list on FTSE All-World and FTSE Medium Cap indices

Groupe Eurotunnel, operator of the Channel Tunnel which is listed both at Euronext Paris (GET) and at the London Stock Exchange (GETS), will be included in the FTSE All-World and FTSE Medium Cap indices following their 7 September updates. The changes will take place from the close of business on Friday 16 September.

The announcement, in London on Wednesday, is recognition of Eurotunnel's performance and its ability to meet the highest standards in the financial sector.

The FTSE All World is important because the Index fund managers who track the performance of FTSE All Word Europe index will rebalance their portfolios on this basis at the close on Friday 16 September. The FTSE MediumCap is a reference for international mid capitalizations.

The FTSE indices are acknowledged for their depth and breadth; they help investors to conduct their trades transparently and to compare their performance against both the market and other reference stocks. The FTSE indices reflect market trends and track the progress of a portfolio containing a wide variety of international businesses.

Groupe Eurotunnel is also listed on other indices on the NYSE Euronext and MSCI, the principle amongst which are:
> The CAC Next 20, which lists the 20 most significant stocks (in terms of market capitalisation and liquidity) after the stocks on the CAC 40.
> The SBF 120, which lists the 120 largest and most liquid French quoted stocks.
> The MSCI Global Standard and MSCI Growth indices, which give exhaustive coverage to companies around the world with medium and large capitalisations, together with companies with strong growth potential.
