

PRESS RELEASE

Paris, September 6 2013. After 13 years with Veolia Environnement, Pierre-François Riolacci has chosen to take a new path in his career and will be leaving his position as Chief Financial Officer at the end of the year.

The recruitment of his successor is ongoing and will be announced in the coming weeks.

Veolia Environnement will carry on its transformation strategy, as defined and implemented for the past 18 months by Antoine Frérot, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, and which initial impacts are fully on the charted path to recovery and profitable growth.

Antoine Frérot declared: “Pierre-François Riolacci has played an important part in the implementation of the transformation and deleveraging strategy of Veolia Environnement. I wish to thank him warmly for the work he has accomplished during his time with the Group and wish him the best for his new professional challenge”.

Veolia Environnement (Paris Euronext: VIE and NYSE: VE) is the worldwide reference in environmental solutions. With 220,000 employees*, the company has operations all around the world and provides tailored solutions to meet the needs of municipal and industrial customers in three complementary segments: water management, waste management and energy management. Veolia Environnement recorded revenue of €29.4 billion* in 2012. www.veolia.com
