Jean-Paul Bailly to Advise PSA Peugeot Citroën on the Project for the Future of the Aulnay-sous-Bois Plant

Jean-Paul Bailly has been appointed as a special advisor to the Chairman of the PSA Peugeot Citroën Managing Board to support the Group in leading the project for the future of its plant in Aulnay-sous-Bois.

In this capacity, Mr Bailly will actively participate in the Group programmes undertaken with stakeholders to define a shared vision for the facility. This vision will take into account the quality of the plant, its suitability for manufacturing activities and the challenges it represents for land-use planning.

Jean-Paul Bailly was Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Paris Transit Authority (RATP) from 1994 to 2002, then Chairman of the French Post Office (La Poste) from 2002 to 2013 and Chairman of the Supervisory Board of La Banque Postale from 2006 and 2013. He is a member of France's Economic, Social and Environmental Council (CESE) and sits on the Boards of Directors of Accor and Edenred. He is also President of the IMS – Entreprendre pour la Cité association.
