

Electro Power Systems (EPS) and Bryanston Resources collaborate for off-grid and mining applications

Paris – April 15, 2015 – EPS, the forerunner in smart hydrogen-based systems for energy storage, announces today the collaboration with Bryanston Resources GmbH, a lead player in the natural resources industry, particularly in the mining sector.

EPS' CEO, Carlalberto Guglielminotti, stated: "We are delighted for the kick-off of this important collaboration with Bryanston. The joint business development for off-grid applications and energy solutions for the mining sector will strengthen our role as a game changer in off-grid power generation."

The joint mission of both companies is aimed to boost the deployment of the ElectroSelf™ technology to mining companies globally, and to integrate this technology with renewables to serve the base load and stabilize intermittency, particularly in South Africa and Germany.

"With a privileged access to the Electro Power Systems' technology, we would be able to propose to the market a new alternative to the traditional diesel and coal generation", declared Lorenzo Tencati, partner of Bryanston and responsible for the South African market.

About Electro Power Systems

Electro Power Systems (EPS) is a forerunner in smart hydrogen-based systems for energy storage. EPS offers the market's most accessible and cleanest solutions through its self-recharging technology vertically integrated into an open architecture. The solutions developed by EPS are coupled with the traditional ICT and electric grid and enable intelligent, scalable and sustainable distributed generation and energy management. EPS' systems storage capacity (10kWh up to 100 MWh) is a response to Energy Transition related-issues ranging from the auxiliary power supply (backup for telecom towers and data centers) to solutions for supporting the electricity grid for transmission and distribution (smart grids and renewables' integration) and finally to leverage a distributed generation model with a full off-grid infrastructure.

Founded in 2005, the Group has facilities in Moncalieri (Turin) and Aosta in Italy and, together with BNC Corp., in Brighton, Michigan (USA). In the last three years, the Group was named "World Technology Pioneer" by the World Economic Forum in 2012; added to the 100 Cleantech Global list by the Cleantech Group in 2012; selected for the 2014 Cleantech Forum in San Francisco; highlighted as a growing success story at the Cleantech Forum in Rotterdam; selected for the 2015 Tech Tour Growth Forum of Geneva and Lausanne.
