Europear Group invests in Wanderio, an innovative multimodal start-up

Europear Group, the European leader in vehicle rental services and a major actor in mobility markets announced today its minority investment, through its Lab (its entity dedicated to innovation), in Wanderio, a multi modal search and comparison platform. It is a new step in the development of Europear's mobility strategy: from car rental to the Europear Lab, it strives to offer future multi-modular solutions.

Wanderio is an Italian start up created in 2013. Its ambition is to simplify its customers' life by offering them the best transport mean to go from point to point, with two main criteria: price and journey length. On the same platform, customers can compare, book and pay travels by plane, train, longue distance buses and airport transfers and now to come car rental offer.

With more than one million planned trips so far, Wanderio currently features connections to over 700 airports and more than 4.000 rail and bus stations. The Europear investment will provide valuable support to further consolidate Wanderio coverage and presence across Europe.

Fabrizio Ruggiero, Head of Mobility and member of the Management Board stated: "We are very happy to enter in Wanderio's capital through a round A investment. It is the first time the Lab invested in such company, as we see a great potential in their business model and their unique approach in comparing different means of transport."

Matteo Colò, CEO of Wanderio, commented: "We are thrilled to welcome the Europear Group as a new strategic partner. This investment is an important endorsement of our vision and will enable us to accelerate Wanderio growth across Europe, expanding into new markets, and developing valuable synergies".
