

Implanet announces FDA 510(k) clearance for the MADISON total knee prosthesis

- Global recognition of the MADISON's clinical value
- Strategic milestone in KICo commercial partnership

Bordeaux, Boston, October 29th, 2019 – 5.45 pm CET – IMPLANET (Euronext Growth: ALIMP, FR0010458729, eligible for PEA-PME equity savings plans), a medical technology company specializing in vertebral and knee-surgery implants, today announces that it has received 510(k) clearance from FDA for the cemented version of its Madison total knee prosthesis. This is the first step towards targeted clearance of complete Total Knee Replacement (TKR) range.

Robust clinical results, including data collected over 7 years and 17,000 implants, supported the clearance. This milestone further establishes Implanet as a leading global med device player and one of the few French companies in this sector granted 510(k) clearance for its knee prostheses.

Obtaining this marketing clearance also represents a key component of the partnership and distribution contract with KICo (Knee Innovation Company) signed and announced in November 2018.

Ludovic Lastennet, CEO of Implanet, commented: “This clearance is another key milestone for Implanet and further validates four proprietary MADISON proprietary technology. With more than 17,000 knee prostheses implanted to date, we have demonstrated the clinical value of our products. This clearance is fully in line with the strategic development of our partnership with KICo that aims to target, for Implanet's knee division, the high-potential markets of Australia and the United States through KICo's Florida-based subsidiary. The United States is the world's largest market, with 760,000 primary knee operations, annual growth of 4% and a market worth close to 4 billion dollars”*.
