

Implanet receives TGA clearance for the MADISON™ total knee prosthesis in Australia

- Recognition of the range of implants developed by Implanet to address a high potential market
- New milestone in the commercialization of the MADISON™ prosthesis in partnership with KICo

Bordeaux, Boston, April 12, 2021 – 5.45 pm CEST - IMPLANET (Euronext Growth: ALIMP, FR0013470168, eligible for PEA-PME equity savings plans), a medical technology company specializing in vertebral and knee-surgery implants, announces the clearance of its MADISON™ total knee prosthesis by the Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA) for marketing in Australia.

This approval is an integrated part of the distribution agreement concluded with KICo in November 2018 for the marketing of the MADISON™ knee prosthesis, specifically covering the United States and Australia. This new milestone completes the eight international licenses covering the MADISON™ knee prosthesis range, the FDA 510(k) clearance granted for marketing in the US as well as the CE marking obtained in Europe.

Ludovic Lastennet, CEO of Implanet, states: “This new clearance from the Australian Health Authority reinforces the clinical value of our proprietary technology for knee surgery and ensures the development of our business in one of the highest-potential markets. In line with our strategy to expand into new countries, this clearance follows the 510(k) from FDA and the CE marking that runs until May 2024, and paves the way for the Group to achieve new structural milestones.”
