Bridger Strengthens its International Rights Coverage with Five New Agreements

New agreements in Andorra, Colombia, El Salvador, Greece and Armenia expand Bridger's coverage across performance and mechanical rights

Winamp Group SA (Euronext Growth Paris & Brussels: ALWIN), through its subsidiary Bridger, announces the signing of five new agreements with collective management organizations in Europe and Latin America, further strengthening the international rights management coverage available to artists and songwriters represented by Bridger.

The new agreements have been signed with SDADV in Andorra, SAYCO in Colombia, SACIM in El Salvador, EDEM in Greece and Armauthor in Armenia.

Each agreement covers both Performance Rights (PR) and Mechanical Rights (MR) and extends Bridger's ability to manage rights across offline uses as well as digital services operating within the respective territories. International digital services are already covered through Bridger's existing arrangements with MINT.

These agreements further broaden Bridger's geographic footprint while also strengthening the depth of the rights coverage available across its international network. They complement the agreements concluded over the past months with collective management organizations across Europe, the Americas, Africa and Asia.

With these latest additions, Bridger's international network now includes more than 40 agreements with collective management organizations worldwide, covering an increasingly broad range of territories, rights and uses.

The continued expansion of this network supports Bridger's objective of providing independent artists and songwriters with a more comprehensive infrastructure for the management and collection of their rights internationally.

"As our international network expands, our focus is increasingly on the depth and effectiveness of the coverage we can provide to artists and songwriters," said Alexandre Saboundjian, CEO of Winamp Group. "These new agreements strengthen our ability to manage both performance and mechanical rights across additional territories and uses, and further reinforce the international infrastructure we have built over the past months.”

Bridger will continue to strengthen its international coverage while progressively expanding the scope and effectiveness of rights management and collection services available to its members.
