ILOG LAUNCHES NEW ONLINE COMMUNITY FOR RICH INTERNET APPLICATION DEVELOPMENT

With RIAsphere.org, Developers Can Share Experience On RIA And Visualization

SUNNYVALE, Calif., and PARIS – Nov. 12, 2008 – ILOG® (NASDAQ: ILOG, Euronext: ILO, ISIN: FR0004042364) today announced a new online community targeting developers of Rich Internet Applications (RIA) -- www.riasphere.org. RIAsphere.org is designed to help developers share and promote their expertise, increase their visibility among their peers and learn best practices. ILOG's goal with the new community is help grow the number of developers taking advantage of the latest RIA visualization tools and technologies.

RIAsphere.org focuses on user interface development on RIA platforms such as AJAX, Flex, and Silverlight. The community will be moderated by an independent international committee of founding members composed of RIA and visualization experts.

Riasphere.org provides news, content generated by users and written by IT experts as well as interviews with industry gurus, a list of worldwide related events, and the possibility to create and to join social groups and discussions. Members of the community will also have access to the "market place", where they will be able to showcase their applications and sell their software developments skills and professional expertise by posting RIA applications or ads.

Through its Flex, Java™, .NET and C++ graphics libraries and components, ILOG provides the industry's most comprehensive set of graphics tools for creating sophisticated, interactive user displays. ILOG's graphics products enhance decision-making speed and ability by making vast quantities of complex data more comprehensible and manageable for users. With each of ILOG's visualization products, developers can save 50 to 80 percent of development time in creating displays. ILOG is a member of the OpenAjax Alliance™ and participates in several standards initiatives in the graphics world. For more information on these products, please visit <http://visualization.ilog.com>.
