ASSYSTEM

Gilbert Vidal in Charge of Investor Relations

(Paris – 5 November 2009)

After contributing to the Group's development and international expansion for 10 years, Jean-François Lours is stepping down as Vice Chairman of the Assystem Management Board on 28 December 2009.

We wish him the best of luck in his future endeavours and just as much success.

As of today, Gilbert Vidal, Chief Financial Officer, is in charge of Analyst and Investor Relations.

Assystem is a leading European provider of engineering and innovation consulting services, strategically focused on the application of technologies in innovative products, production processes and infrastructure. It has nearly 9,000 employees and derives roughly one third of its revenue from operations in 13 countries outside France.
