

Technicolor Information

Paris (France) – September 22, 2011 – Following the significant decline in Technicolor's share price (Euronext Paris: TCH) recorded today in a very volatile market and in important daily volumes, the Group maintains its 2011 guidance and confirms it has no information which would affect this guidance.

The Group also confirms the news published today in the press related to France Telecom's intention to stop the new generation set-top-box development project with Technicolor, due to a time-lag between the development phase and the expected launch date. The Group specifies that this will have no material impact on its 2011 and 2012 revenues and adjusted EBITDA. Technicolor remains committed to its software platform for set-top-boxes and gateways and pursues actively the development for its customers.
