

As per the press release published on May, 24 2011, we remind you that RADIALL brought an action against Euronext Paris S.A. before the Commercial Court of Paris in order to be delisted from the stock exchange on the ground of a low insignificant free float for trading.

Indeed, RADIALL considered that free float for trading should be evaluated without taking into account the blocks of shares exceeding 5% (as apply for IPO and creation of indices).

On December 14, 2012, the Court dismissed RADIALL's action.

RADIALL has decided to appeal the judgment so as to continue the delisting process started three years ago, by issuing a public bid in January 2010.
