

SCOR entrusts new responsibilities to Paolo De Martin and Frieder Knüpling in order to continue its development as part of the Optimal Dynamics plan

In the context of SCOR's preparations for its development over the next few years, and as part of the implementation of the Optimal Dynamics plan, SCOR is changing the responsibilities within its Executive Committee by mobilising its global talent pool, with the dual purpose of ensuring renewal and continuity.

Paolo De Martin becomes CEO of SCOR Global Life and re-joins the Group Executive Committee after a 6-month sabbatical. As Chief Financial Officer of SCOR, a position he held until May 2013, Paolo played a leading role in the successful acquisitions of Transamerica Re and Generali USA, which have made the Group the market leader in US life reinsurance.

Having successfully run SCOR Global Life since February 2008, Gilles Meyer has decided to step down from his responsibilities as CEO and focus his attention on the promotion and marketing of SCOR Global Life. He becomes deputy CEO of SCOR Global Life and remains a member of the Executive Committee.

Frieder Knüpling has been promoted to Chief Risk Officer of SCOR. He succeeds Philippe Trainar, who becomes Chief Economist and Senior Global Advisor to the Chairman. Frieder Knüpling remains a member of the Executive Committee.

As Deputy Chief Risk Officer since 1 October 2012, Frieder Knüpling has directly contributed alongside the CRO to the reinforcement of the Group's risk management framework, which has notably led Standard & Poor's to rate SCOR's enterprise risk management (ERM) as "very strong". With Philippe Trainar, he has also enabled SCOR to actively prepare for the transition to the new Solvency II prudential framework, which is due to come into force on 1 January 2016.

These appointments are effective immediately.

Denis Kessler, Chairman & Chief Executive Officer of SCOR, comments: “The decision has been made to progressively put into place a team that will ensure SCOR’s development over the next few years and implement the Optimal Dynamics plan. I would like to thank Gilles Meyer, under whose leadership SCOR Global Life, which now books around EUR 6 billion in gross written premiums, has made a significant contribution to the Group’s results and experienced a period of remarkable growth. Paolo De Martin, who has been an excellent Group CFO, becomes CEO of SCOR Global Life for the new phase that is now beginning. He will be able to count on the support of Gilles, who becomes his deputy. As for Philippe Trainar, he has prepared the Group for the transition to Solvency II and has elevated our expertise in terms of risk management to the highest level. Frieder Knüpling, who was formerly his deputy and already a member of the Executive Committee, becomes Chief Risk Officer. Philippe becomes Chief Economist and Senior Global Advisor to the Chairman. Gilles, Paolo, Philippe and Frieder have all proved themselves and demonstrated their ability to successfully assume responsibilities at the highest level. This generational renewal through internal promotion – which began in May 2013 with the appointment of Mark Kociancic to the post of Chief Financial Officer – demonstrates the depth and the global nature of the pool of talent at SCOR’s disposal. I would like to extend my warmest thanks to the entire SCOR executive management team, which also includes Victor Peignet, Benjamin Gentsch and François de Varenne, for the work they have accomplished and for their unreserved commitment to achieving, together, the profitability and solvency objectives that we have set ourselves.”
