Press release

New thin-film deposition technology distributed worldwide by RIBER

Bezons, October 13th, 2014 – 7:00 am – RIBER, the global leader for molecular beam epitaxy (MBE), is announcing that it has signed a distribution agreement with INTERCOVAMEX, a company specialized in innovative Physical Vapor Deposition processes (PVD).

Created in Mexico in 1991 by Jean Marc Zisa, ex Riber engineer, INTERCOVAMEX is the largest high vacuum PVD system manufacturer in Latin America. These systems are very popular in many advanced materials research centers to develop a wide range of semiconductor devices.

INTERCOVAMEX is also the largest distributor of scientific equipment in Mexico, representing world leading companies. It has included RIBER for 22 years with great success. To increase this proven partnership, RIBER will now be the exclusive distributor of INTERCOVAMEX PVD systems in U.S.A, RUSSIA, INDIA, CHINA, UK, FRANCE and french speaking part of SWITZERLAND.

RIBER is moving forward with its diversification strategy into other thin-film deposition techniques. This new commercial partnership will further strengthen the range of equipment and services offered by RIBER.

ABOUT RIBER:

Riber designs and produces molecular beam epitaxy (MBE) systems as well as evaporation sources and cells for the semiconductor industry. This high-tech equipment is essential for the manufacturing of compound semiconductor materials and new materials that are used in numerous consumer applications, from new information technologies to OLED flat screens and new generation solar cells.

The Riber Group recorded €23.5 million in revenues for 2013, with 109 employees at the end of 2013. The company is ISO9001 certified. Riber is listed on NYSE-Euronext Paris, Compartment "C", and is part of the CAC Small, CAC Mid & Small, CAC Technology and CAC T. HARD. & EQ indices. Riber is one of the best-rated companies in the Gaïa-index, the leading SRI index for French mid-caps. Riber is eligible for SME share-based savings schemes.
