World Gas Conference Paris 1-5 June 2015:
VINCI presents its Oil and Gas goals

VINCI will present its Oil and Gas (O&G) goals at the World Gas Conference held in Paris from 1 to 5 June 2015. For the first time ever, the Group's full range of companies and brands<sup>1</sup> specialising in the O&G industry will be brought together at a single space.

Building on the proven expertise of its subsidiaries, VINCI is a global O&G player offering a comprehensive array of EPCC (engineering, procurement, construction, commissioning), operation and maintenance services for the O&G industry. The Group is expected to generate revenue of about €1.5 billion in the sector in 2015 and employs more than 9,000 people in the French and international O&G markets.

The Group is now working to expand its operations and become a benchmark in its specialised activities throughout the entire upstream and downstream O&G value chain. These goals are supported by strong worldwide demand for O&G infrastructure in coming years.

The Group's expansion in the O&G sector goals illustrates a major thrust of VINCI's strategy – its focus on growth in activities with high technology content and in regions with high growth potential around the world. This strategy involves the acquisition of new structures and builds on the Group's strong presence in the international marketplace.
