Following the success of both the Revolution Pro Controller and Revolution Pro Controller 2, with over 600 000 combined units sold worldwide, NACON is about to take another step forward, in the development of peripherals dedicated to performance and comfort, by introducing its first PS4™ controller enhanced with wireless gaming capability and next level improvements.

The REVOLUTION Unlimited Pro Controller for PS4™ includes a wireless game mode in addition to wired gameplay. The controller is equipped with a headset jack enabling audio & communication in both wireless and wired modes. Among other features is a control panel, located on the underside of the controller, allowing rapid headset control, game profiles and connection settings.

« It is with great pride that we share the experience of our community's feedback and the NACON team's work by launching this licensed PS4™ controller, offering a wireless mode with audio capability. In addition, we have made improvements in ergonomics and customisation which follows what our community has asked for. » declares Alain Falc, Founder and CEO of BIGBEN INTERACTIVE. « After more than a year of development, this upgraded version of our best-seller, with reshaped ergonomics, is full of surprises that we are excited to unveil to the most competitive gamers. » concludes Alain Falc.

NACON's REVOLUTION Unlimited Pro Controller, officially licensed by Sony Interactive Entertainment Europe (SIEE) Ltd for PS4™, will be available in the first quarter of 2019. More information will be unveiled soon.
