Since the new IFRS came into force, the subsidiaries Sogara and Centros Comerciales Carrefour have been consolidated on an equity basis. As such, the figure for consolidated sales is that of the parent company: 431.4 million euros (-1.3%).

The third quarter of 2009 confirmed the consumption trends seen previously:

- In France, the overall level of sales has continued to be affected by the drop in fuel prices, skewing any comparison with the third quarter of 2008.
In a climate still affected by the crisis, the parent company is holding up well: in the third quarter, sales excluding fuel climbed 3.2%, benefiting from the dynamic performance on the supermarkets converted into Carrefour Market stores, as well as the growth achieved on Carrefour brand products. However, the trend for hypermarkets is still difficult: the parent company's hypermarkets have limited their downturn thanks to their average size and relatively close locations, while Sogara's large regional shopping centers are less in line with current consumer expectations and have continued to be penalized by the impact of non-food.
- In Spain, where the economic environment is still depressed, Centros Comerciales Carrefour has seen its business stabilize to a certain extent. The Group is continuing to forge ahead with its cost-cutting program and, drawing on its strong commercial position, stepping up its aggressive pricing policy in a context marked by a price war between the various brands.
