Divisional Review

- The Rough Terrain Handling (RTH) Division generated revenue of €214.1m up 27% vs. Q4'10. Construction is up especially outside Europe, while Agriculture takes advantage of favorable market prices to renew equipment fleets.
- With €43.3m the Industrial Material Handling (IMH) Division posted a 23% growth year-over-year. Forklifts have been a key driver, in France and abroad. Mast subcontracting for Toyota also went up with the introduction of a new generation of masts in September. Last but not least, manufacturing operations in Beaupréau now enjoy a progressive and steady ramp-up.
- The Compact Equipment (CE) Division with €52.4m showed a 34% revenue increase vs. Q4'10. North America has shown strong demand, especially in back-end loaded Agriculture. In Europe, the division revisited its distribution operations with a new Benelux-based platform for logistics.

New Partnership with Yanmar

Manitou today announces a new partnership with Yanmar, a worldwide leader in Construction equipment. As per a cross-OEM agreement in the US, Manitou Americas will distribute Gehl-and-Mustang branded Yanmar mini-excavators while Yanmar will sell Compact Equipment skidloaders and trackloaders under the Yanmar brand. This partnership also reinforces the ongoing technical cooperation between the two organizations on engines.
