PART III — NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR or the transition report or portion thereof could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

Weatherford International Ltd. (the "Company") is unable to file its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the three months ended June 30, 2012 (the "Form 10-Q") without unreasonable effort or expense due to the circumstances described below.

As previously reported in the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2012, the Company's Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 and each of the Company's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q during the year ended December 31, 2011, the Company identified a material weakness in its internal control over financial reporting relating to current taxes payable, certain deferred tax assets and liabilities, reserves for uncertain tax positions, and current and deferred income tax expense. This material weakness resulted in the restatement of the Company's consolidated financial statements included in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the years ended December 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010.

In addition, as the Company previously reported on its Current Report on Form 8-K filed on July 24, 2012, management concluded that the Company had not remediated its previously disclosed material weakness in internal control over financial reporting relating to current taxes payable, certain deferred tax assets and liabilities, reserves for uncertain tax positions, and current and deferred income tax expense, and management has identified additional income tax errors related to prior years. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the registrant's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

As a result of the ongoing material weakness, tax-related accounting errors and the related adjustments, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company concluded, on July 24, 2012, that investors should no longer rely on the Company's previously issued financial statements. As previously disclosed on its Current Report on Form 8-K filed on July 24, 2012, the Company currently expects to record aggregate adjustments to tax expense related to prior periods of approximately $92 million, as a result of errors identified during the first two quarters of 2012. The Company continues to analyze additional issues related to accounting for income taxes in prior periods to determine whether further adjustments are necessary.

Until completion of the restatement process, the Company is unable to finalize the Company's tax accounts for the year ended December 31, 2011 or subsequent periods, including the three months ended June 30, 2012. Furthermore, management is in the process of analyzing the continued material weakness in order to provide disclosure pursuant to Item 9A of Form 10-K and Part I, Item 4 of Form 10-Q and as necessary to complete management's assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Management is also in the process of determining the steps necessary to remediate the material weakness and making recommendations to the Company's Audit Committee.

Management is working under the Audit Committee's oversight to complete the additional procedures necessary to file, as soon as practicable, restated financial statements for fiscal 2011, 2010 and 2009 in an Annual Report on Form 10-K/A for the year ended December 31, 2011, restated financial statements for the first quarter of 2012 in a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q/A and financial statements for the second quarter of 2012 in a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. The Company will also include restated selected financial data for fiscal 2007 through 2011 in its Form 10-K/A. In addition, the Company intends to include in the Form 10-K/A restated quarterly financial data for each of the quarters in fiscal 2011 and 2010. Based on the information regarding prior years that the company intends to include in its Form 10-K/A, the Company does not intend to file amendments to any of its previously filed Form 10-Qs for 2011 and prior periods.

(Telephone Number)

- (2) Have all other periodic reports required under Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Section 30 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 during the preceding 12 months or for such shorter period that the registrant was required to file such report(s) been filed? If the answer is no, identify report(s).  Yes  No
- (3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?  Yes  No

If so: attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

The Company issued a news release on July 24, 2012 announcing the Company's intention to file restated financial statements as soon as practicable. This news release was furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to the Company's Current Report on Form 8-K filed on July 24, 2012. Until completion of the restatement process, the Company will not be in a position to provide additional information about the restated 2011 results of operations, including results of operations for the quarter ended June 30, 2011.

Forward-Looking Statements

Any statements in this notification of late filing about future expectations, plans and prospects for the Company, including without limitation our expectations regarding results of operations for the quarter ended June 30, 2012, and other statements containing the words "believes," "anticipates," "plans," "expects," and similar expressions, constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that involve risks and uncertainties and reflect the Company's judgment as of the date of this notification. Specific forward-looking statements with respect to this notification relate to the expected results of the Company's ongoing review of historical tax accounts; management's analysis of the continued material weakness in internal control over financial reporting for income taxes; the Company's ability to complete additional procedures relating to the restatement of previously issued financial statements, the audit of its financial statements and financial information for the year ended December 31, 2011, the completion of its financial statements for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and to complete those procedures in a timely manner. Forward-looking statements also include any statements about the resolution or potential future resolution of our ongoing remediation of our material weakness in internal control over financial reporting for income taxes. Actual results of the Company may differ materially from those indicated by these forward-looking statements as a result of various risks and uncertainties, including the Company's inability to design or improve internal controls to address identified issues; the impact upon operations of legal compliance matters or internal controls review, improvement and remediation, including the detection of wrongdoing, improper activities or circumvention of internal controls; difficulties in controlling expenses, including costs of legal compliance matters or internal controls review, improvement and remediation; impact of changes in management or staff levels, the effect of global political, economic and market conditions on the Company's projected results; the possibility that the Company may be unable to recognize expected revenues from current and future contracts; the effect of currency fluctuations on the Company's business; the Company's ability to manage its workforce to control costs; the cost and availability of raw materials, the Company's ability to manage its supply chain and business processes; the Company's ability to commercialize new technology; whether the Company can realize expected benefits from its redomestication of its former Bermuda parent company; the Company's ability to realize expected benefits from its acquisitions and dispositions; the effect of a downturn in its industry on the Company's carrying value of its goodwill; the effect of weather conditions on the Company's operations; the impact of oil and natural gas prices and worldwide economic conditions on drilling activity; the effect of turmoil in the credit markets on the Company's ability to manage risk with interest rate and foreign exchange swaps; the outcome of pending government investigations, including the Securities and Exchange Commission's investigation of the circumstances surrounding the Company's material weakness in its internal control over financial reporting of income taxes; the outcome of ongoing litigation, including shareholder litigation related to the Company's material weakness in its internal control over financial reporting of income taxes and its restatement of historical financial statements; the future level of crude oil and natural gas prices; demand for our products and services; levels of pricing for our products and services; utilization rates of our equipment; the effectiveness of our supply chain; weather-related disruptions and other operational and non-operational risks that are detailed in our most recent Form 10-K and other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those indicated in our forward-looking statements. We undertake no obligation to correct or update any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise, except to the extent required under federal securities laws.
