

2017 guidance raised again

Paris, January 10, 2018

Last November, Interparfums raised its 2017 annual guidance for sales to €400-€405m and the operating margin to 13%-13.5%.

After very strong year-end momentum by the portfolios main brands and a market response considerably exceeding initial expectations for Coach, the men's fragrance line launched in the fall, the company has further updated this guidance for:

- sales, to be published on January 30, 2018, now expected to reach €415-€420m, up more than 13% from 2016;
- the operating margin, to be published on March 14, 2018, expected to reach around 13.5%.
