go2cloud chooses 2CRSi as preferred partner to provide High Performance Computing servers

Strasbourg (France), November 24, 2020 – 2CRSi, a French manufacturer of high-performance, energy-efficient computer servers, announces that it has been chosen by go2cloud, European leading High Performance Computing services provider, to supply additional capacity for its data centers.

go2cloud, European leading provider of High-Performance Computing as a Service (HPCaaS) services, has selected 2CRSi as preferred partner to grow its capacity in Europe and in the Middle East.

The agreement takes effect with three orders to be delivered to go2cloud's data centers in Europe by the end of 2020. Those multi-GPU servers will provide additional capacity for go2cloud's customers in Europe.

go2cloud has already expressed a strong interest in 2CRSi's energy-efficient servers. Going forward, this partner is expected to become one of 2CRSi's top 10 customers.

"We are very proud to become a partner of go2cloud, a leading European provider of HPCaaS. They are building a state-of-the-art infrastructure in the countries where they operate. Our teams are excited to work on the best HPC technologies for them" says Alain Wilmouth, co-founder of 2CRSi.

"2CRSi has demonstrated its ability to innovate and design servers other manufacturers do not yet think about! We are happy to start this new partnership and we believe that we have found the right technology for our future growth", adds Oliver Gustai, CEO of go2cloud.
