With quarterly revenue approaching the billion-euro level for the first time, the fourth quarter of 2006 marked a revenue increase of 3.0% over the prior-year period. This growth lifted the Group's annual revenue to 3,784.8 million euros—a 5.3% increase over 2005.

In France, annual growth was supported both by high volumes in Groupage (LTL) and Express in the last quarter of 2006 and by air and sea freight forwarding business. The reduction of volume in contract logistics in the high-tech industry and the slowdown of automobile production partially offset these sources of growth.

In Europe, annual revenue increased by 3.2%. Italy turned the corner in 2006, showing positive growth. At the same time, development of new contracts in Eastern Europe and Germany continued. Trends of the prior quarters in high-tech contract volumes weighed on revenue in Benelux and the United Kingdom.

Asia and the rest of the world posted growth of 21.6% with strong development in China.

The acquisition of TFM is expected to close on 5 February 2007, the condition precedent related to clearances and approvals of competition authorities having been met.
