Index Description

SGI Industrial Metals Semi Dynamic Index is a commodity Index.

It gives exposure to the base metals sub-sector performance in an optimized way compared to the traditional market indices. Its objective is to optimize the characteristics of the industrial metals sub-sector while capturing future price performance.

SGI Industrial Metals Semi Dynamic Index includes 4 mechanisms to optimize standard roll process:

- Roll timing: the roll takes place from the 1st to the 5th business day of each month while Benchmark indices roll from the 5th to the 9th business day.
- This ensures liquidity and mitigates market impact
- Dynamic rolling: selection of the best contract to roll (i.e. the one that generates the most interesting roll yield)
- Seasonal rolling: Consideration of the seasonality effect on identified underlying commodities
- Static Rolling: roll into fixed and optimum future contracts
