§ 4 (Redemption Amount, Automatic Early Redemption)

1. The Certificates shall be redeemed, unless redeemed early pursuant to paragraph 2 of this § 4 or § 6 on the Maturity Date at the Redemption Amount pursuant to paragraph 2 of this § 4.
2. If, in the determination of the Calculation Agent, on any Calculation Date within the Observation Period a Stop Loss Event has occurred, the Certificates will be redeemed pursuant to the provisions in § 8 on the Stop Loss Event Date by payment of the Early Redemption Amount per Certificate. The "Early Redemption Amount" equals an amount in the Specified Currency determined by the Calculation Agent on the Stop Loss Event Date in accordance with the following formula:

- If during the Observation Period a Stop Loss Event has occurred, the Early Redemption Amount on the Stop Loss Event Date will be calculated as follows:

If on any Calculation Date during the Observation Period the Reference Price was equal to or below the Barrier Level, the Certificates will be redeemed early by payment of the Early Redemption Amount within five Banking Days following the Stop Loss Event Date. If during the Observation Period, the Reference Price has never been equal to or below the Barrier Level, the Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date shall be the maximum of (a) the difference between the Settlement Price and the Strike Price and (b) zero. The maximum amount as defined above will be adjusted by the Multiplier.

The Redemption Amount and the Early Redemption Amount are subject to Adjustments and Market Disruptions in accordance with § 6 and § 7.

4. In this context, any reference to the Redemption Amount shall be read as reference to the Early Redemption Amount.

§ 6 (Adjustments, Issuer's Irregular Call Rights)

1. The basis for calculating the Redemption Amount shall be the Underlying with its provisions applicable from time to time (the "Index Concept"), as developed and continued by the Index Sponsor, as well as the respective method of calculation, determination, and publication of the Reference Price by the Index Sponsor. The same shall apply if during the lifetime of the Certificates changes are made or occur in respect of the calculation of the Underlying, the composition and/or weighting of prices on the basis on which the Underlying is calculated, or if other measures are taken, which have an impact on the Index Concept, unless otherwise provided in below provisions.
2. Changes in the calculation of the Underlying (including adjustments) or the Index Concept shall not result in an adjustment of the provisions to determine the Redemption Amount unless the new relevant concept or calculation of the Underlying is, as a result of a change (including any adjustment), at the Calculation Agent's reasonable discretion pursuant to § 317 BGB no longer comparable to the previous relevant concept or calculation. When determining the necessity of an adjustment, the Calculation Agent will take into account the adjustment of the Derivatives linked to the Underlying actually performed by the Determining Futures Exchange. The Calculation Agent will use reasonable endeavours as to ensure that the economic position of the Certificate Holders remains unchanged to the largest extent possible. Any adjustment will be made by the Calculation Agent taking into account the time to maturity of the Certificates (if applicable) and the latest available price for the Underlying. If the Calculation Agent determines that, pursuant to the rules of the Determining Futures Exchange, no adjustments are made to the Derivatives linked to the Underlying, the terms of the Certificates will regularly remain unchanged. The method to determine the Redemption Amount may also be adjusted if the calculation or publication of the Underlying is cancelled or replaced by another Underlying. The adjusted method to determine the Redemption Amount and the time of its initial application shall be published in accordance with § 13.
3. If a Reference Price determined and published by the Index Sponsor and which is used by the Calculation Agent as the basis for the calculation of the Redemption Amount (the "Original Determination") is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published by the Index Sponsor after the original publication, but still within one Settlement Cycle, then the Calculation Agent will notify the Issuer of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall again determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") by using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, the Calculation Agent may, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, adjust the method to determine the Redemption Amount accordingly in its reasonable discretion pursuant to § 317 BGB. When determining the necessity of an adjustment, the Calculation Agent will take into account the adjustment of the Derivatives linked to the Underlying actually performed by the Determining Futures Exchange. The Calculation Agent will use reasonable endeavours as to ensure that the economic position of the Certificate Holders remains unchanged to the largest extent possible. Any adjustment will be made by the Calculation Agent taking into account the time to maturity of the Certificates (if applicable) and the Corrected Value. The adjusted method to determine the Redemption Amount and the time of its initial application shall be published in accordance with § 13.
4. If the calculation or publication of the Underlying is at any time cancelled and/or replaced by another Underlying or the Issuer is no longer entitled to use the Underlying as the basis for the calculation of the Redemption Amount the Calculation Agent shall, in its reasonable discretion pursuant to § 317 BGB, stipulate which Underlying should in future be used as the basis for the calculation of the Redemption Amount (the "Replacement Underlying"), adjusting, if applicable, the method or formula to calculate the Redemption Amount accordingly. The Replacement Underlying and the time that it is first applied shall be published in accordance with § 13. Commencing with the first application of the Replacement

Underlying, any reference to the Underlying in these Terms and Conditions, depending on the context, shall be deemed to refer to the Replacement Underlying.

5. If the Underlying is no longer determined and published by the Index Sponsor but rather by another person, company or institution (the "New Index Sponsor"), then the Calculation Agent shall have the right to calculate the Redemption Amount on the basis of the Underlying as calculated and published by the New Index Sponsor. In this case, any reference to the Index Sponsor contained herein shall, depending on the context, be deemed as referring to the New Index Sponsor. If the Underlying is no longer calculated by the Index Calculation Agent but rather by another person, company or institution (the "New Index Calculation Agent"), then the Calculation Agent shall have the right to calculate the Redemption Amount on the basis of the Underlying as calculated by the New Index Calculation Agent. In this case, any reference to the Index Calculation Agent contained herein shall, depending on the context, be deemed as referring to the New Index Calculation Agent.
6. Should
 - a) the Calculation Agent come to the conclusion that no reasonable adjustment is possible to account for the change in the method of determination of the level of the Underlying of or
 - b) in the determination of the Calculation Agent, (i) no Replacement Underlying or (ii) no successor or replacement Index Calculation Agent be available, or
 - c) the determination of the Underlying be finally cancelled, or
 - d) a Change in Law and/or a Hedging Disruption and/or Increased Cost of Hedging (all as defined in § 2 occur, the Issuer is entitled to terminate the Certificates early by giving notice pursuant to § 13. Such termination shall become effective at the time of the announcement pursuant to § 13 or at the time indicated in the notice. In that case, the Calculation Agent shall within ten Banking Days before the day of early repayment determine in its reasonable discretion pursuant to § 317 BGB and publish without delay the reasonable market value of the Certificates (the "Cancellation Amount"). The Cancellation Amount will be paid pursuant to the provisions in § 8 to the Clearing System or to its order with the instruction for immediate forwarding to the Certificate Holders.

7. The adjustments and determinations of the Issuer pursuant to the paragraphs above shall be effected by the Issuer or the Calculation Agent at its reasonable discretion pursuant to § 315 or, as the case may be, § 317 BGB and shall be final, conclusive and binding on all parties, except where there is a manifest error.

§ 7 (Market Disruptions)

1. Notwithstanding the conditions of § 6 above, if a Market Disruption occurs on an observation date, the respective observation date will be postponed to the next following Calculation Date on which the Market Disruption no longer exists. Any payment date relating to such observation date shall be postponed accordingly if applicable. No interest is due because of such postponement.
2. Should the Market Disruption continue for more than 30 consecutive Banking Days, the Issuer, in its reasonable discretion pursuant § 315 BGB, shall determine, or cause the Calculation Agent to determine in its reasonable discretion pursuant to § 317 BGB, the Reference Price. The Reference Price required for the determination of the Redemption Amount shall be determined in accordance with prevailing market conditions around 10:00 a.m. (Munich local time) on this thirty-first Banking Days immediately prior to the occurrence of the Market Disruption available to the Issuer or the Calculation Agent, taking into account the economic position of the Certificate Holders.

However, if within these 30 Banking Days comparable Derivatives expire and are paid on the Determining Futures Exchange, the settlement price established by the Determining Futures Exchange for the comparable Derivatives will be taken into account in calculating the Redemption Amount. In that case, the expiration date for comparable Derivatives will be taken as the relevant observation date.

3. "Market Disruption" means:

- a) in general the suspension or restriction of trading on the exchanges or the markets on which the securities that form the basis of the Underlying are listed or traded, or on the respective futures exchanges on which Derivatives linked to the Underlying are listed or traded,
- b) in relation to individual securities which form the basis of the Underlying, the suspension or restriction of trading on the exchanges or the markets on which such securities are traded or on the respective futures exchanges or the markets on which Derivatives in such securities are traded, or
- c) in relation to individual derivatives on the Underlying, the suspension of or restriction of trading on the futures exchanges or the markets on which such derivatives are traded, or
- d) the suspension of or failure to calculate the Underlying or the non-publication of the calculation as a result of a decision by the Index Sponsor.

A restriction of the trading hours or the number of days on which trading takes place on the Relevant Exchange, or, as the case may be, on the Determining Futures Exchange shall not constitute a Market Disruption provided that the restriction is due to a prior announced change in the rules of the Relevant Exchange or, as the case may be, on the Determining Futures Exchange.

§ 8 (Payments)

1. The Issuer undertakes

- a) to pay the Redemption Amount within five Banking Days following the Maturity Date,
- b) to pay the Early Redemption Amount within five Banking Days following the Stop Loss Event Date, and
- c) to pay the Cancellation Amount within five Banking Days as of the date of the notice pursuant to § 6 (6) or, as the case may be, the date of the early termination.

The amounts mentioned in this paragraph 1 and all further amounts payable under these Terms and Conditions shall be rounded up or down to the nearest 0.01 Euro, with 0.005 Euro being rounded upwards.

2. If the due date for any payment under the Certificates (the "Payment Date") is not a Banking Day then the Certificate Holders shall not be entitled to payment until the next Banking Day.
3. All payments shall be made to the Principal Paying Agent (as defined in § 9). The Principal Paying Agent shall pay all amounts due to the Clearing System for credit to the respective accounts of the depository bank for transfer to the Certificate Holders. The payment to the Clearing System shall discharge the Issuer from its payment obligations under the Certificates in the amount of such payment.
4. If the Issuer fails to make any payment under the Certificates when due, interest shall accrue on due amounts on the basis of the default rate of interest established by law. The accrual of interest starts on the due date (including) and ends at the end of the day immediately preceding the effective date of payment (including).

Appendix 3 - Risk Factors

Important Information relating to Risks in connection with the Certificates

These Final Terms are not a substitute for obtaining necessary advice from your bank. Investors should only buy the Certificates, if they will be able to bear the risk of loss of their invested capital.

Risk

In addition to the risk factors stated on pages 36 ff and 45 ff of the Prospectus, on which reference is taken hereby, you should consider the following risk factors:

By purchasing Certificates you are entitled to receive payment of a Redemption Amount linked to the price of the underlying index (the "Reference Price") as specified in the Terms and Conditions of the Certificates.

Basic Principles

- The Issue Price for Certificates is based on the pricing models used by the Issuer and may include hidden premiums on top of the mathematical value determined using such models. The Issuer will be entitled to determine the amount of any such premium, which may deviate from the premium charged by other issuers for comparable products. These premiums may also include commissions paid to third parties for services relating to derivative securities placement or a respective discount of the Issue Price. They may also result in a reduction of the market price for the securities over time.
- Sole debtor of the Certificate is the Issuer. The Certificate Holder shall only request payments under the Terms and Conditions from the Issuer. However, the Certificate Holder assumes the position of a creditor and the credit risk of the UniCredit Bank AG. The Certificate is not a subordinated, unsecured, contractual liability of the Issuer and afford no immediate rights or participation in respect to the Underlying. Should the Issuer get into financial difficulties or become insolvent, could the invested amount – independent from any cumulativeness of the Underlying – be partial or completely lost.
- As regards profit expectations, you will have to take any additional costs for the purchase or sale of the Certificates into account.
- Any dividend payments during the lifetime of the Certificates are used for the financing of the earnings mechanism and will not be distributed to the investors.

Price development of the Certificates:

- The development of the price for the Certificate is indirectly linked to the performance of the Underlying. The market value of the Certificates cannot generally be regarded as a precise reflection of the performance of the Underlying since factors such as market expectations and the liquidity of the Underlyings' affect the price development of the Certificates.
- The value of the Certificates may also be affected by the Issuer's credit rating on the capital market and supply and demand on the secondary market.
- If, during the term of the Certificate, the market price of the Certificate falls below the purchase price and you feel that the market price will not recover at all before the redemption date, it would be worth considering selling the Certificate and accepting a partial loss to avoid even greater losses. If, contrary to expectations, the market price of the Certificate rises after you have sold it, you may only take advantage of this by repurchasing the Certificate including the payment of any associated costs.
- Please note that the purchase of Certificates does not entitle the purchaser to receive on the redemption date a Redemption Amount already fixed today. Any change in the value of the Underlying may also lead to the value of the Certificate falling considerably below the price paid for it in line with the performance of the Underlying. This may lead to a partial or total loss of the capital you invest (i.e. the price of the Certificate itself, plus any other costs). If the value of the Certificate on the redemption date is less than the purchase price paid for the Certificates, investors will not get back all the money they invested. In such case, the capital loss will be equal to the difference between the purchase price paid for the Certificates and their value on the redemption date.

- If the Issuer liquidates any hedging arrangement for the Certificate issue, this may have a negative impact on the market price of the Underlying and therefore also on the value of the Certificates, particularly at the end of the lifetime of the Certificate.

Transactions Excluding or Limiting Risk

Do not assume that you will be able to enter into transactions at any time during the lifetime of the Certificate to exclude or limit the risks to which you are subject. These risks will depend on market factors and associated conditions. It may be the case that such transactions are only available at an unfavourable market price and that you will suffer a corresponding loss in this way.

Financing Transactions in Certificates

If you do decide to go ahead and purchase Certificates, the transaction should be financed using your own surplus funds so that any losses can be borne without difficulty.

If you nonetheless decide to finance the transaction using a loan, please ensure you can meet any interest and redemption payments in the event of a loss being incurred on the transaction. Do not assume that you will be able to finance the loan with any profits made from the Certificate transaction.

The Certificates do not certify the right to receive interest or dividend payments, and hence do not yield any running earnings that can be used to compensate possible losses in the value of the Certificates or to bear any running costs for a loan (interest, amortisation, processing fees).

If you finance a Certificate transaction by a loan, you will have to set your profit expectations for the transaction at a higher level, since you will have to take both the Certificate acquisition costs and the loan costs (interest, amortisation, processing fees) into account.

Notice

Prior to the purchase of these Certificates please read the Terms and Conditions together with the Base Prospectus and see a specialist for advice.

These important information relating to risks of loss are not an integral part of the Terms and Conditions; no claims can be derived thereof. Only the Terms and Conditions (Certificates) are decisive.
