LEVEL 3 ENHANCES SUPPORT FOR BRAZILIAN ENTERPRISES WITH SES SATELLITE

Luxembourg/Sao Paulo, November 29, 2012 – SES (NYSE Euronext Paris and Luxembourg Stock Exchange:SESG) today announced it has struck a long-term capacity agreement with Level 3 Communications (NYSE:LVLT) for the delivery of advanced corporate communications services to businesses across Brazil.

Level 3 in Latin America is utilising 25 MHz of Ku-band capacity aboard SES' new SES-4 satellite to deliver high-speed broadband, and unified and highly reliable IP communications to small and large enterprises in Brazil. The two companies have a long-time business relationship through which they deliver sophisticated telecom and video solutions to businesses in Argentina, Colombia, Chile, Venezuela and Brazil.

“With support from SES and its people, Level 3 is driving high-speed connectivity and economic growth across Brazil and all of Latin America,” said Matias Heinrich, Level 3's Senior Vice President of Operations for Latin America. “We are committed to delivering state-of-the-art communications services to corporations across the region, and the excellent coverage of SES-4 is helping us to bring a wide range of enterprise solutions and connectivity services to our customers.”

“This latest agreement between SES and Level 3 reflects the escalating demand for high-speed broadband and corporate network services throughout Latin America,” said Dolores Martos, Vice President of Sales Latin American and Caribbean for SES. “Level 3 in Latin America is a true innovator and a leading provider of telecommunications solutions. We are dedicated to supporting Level 3 across the region.”
