Eurovia wins the contract to upgrade a railway line south of Prague in the Czech Republic

- A comprehensive upgrade of an 8.7 km section
- A contract with a total value of €120 million

Eurovia, as part of a joint venture with Strabag Rail and Elektrizace železnic Praha, has signed the contract to upgrade the 8.7 km section between the Smíchov station in Prague and the city of Černošice southwest of the capital.

This section, which lies along a very busy line, is part of the Czech Republic's third railway transit corridor.

The €120 million contract covers refurbishment of the track sub-structure, reconstruction of overhead contact lines, bridges and railbeds, modernisation of telecommunication and safety equipment, widening of some portions of the line and renovation of the infrastructure and platforms of several Prague stations (Smíchov, Radotín and Velká Chuchle).

The project is designed to improve safety and traffic flow. Speed will be increased to 100-130 km/h for conventional trains and 120-140 km/h for tilting trains.

The works, set for completion in June 2022, will apply alternating traffic interruptions to reduce disruption for users.

Eurovia generated revenue of more than €500 million in the Czech Republic in 2018, and in June of last year won the contract to upgrade another rail line.
