

NACON ANNOUNCES LAUNCH OF MG-X MADE FOR iPHONE® CONTROLLER

Lesquin, 11 January 2023 – The premium gaming accessories designer NACON is pleased to announce the launch of its new MG-X Made For iPhone® controller. The officially licensed Xbox MG-X Made For iPhone® cloud-gaming controller is the ideal accessory for subscribers of Xbox Game Pass Ultimate™.

Like the MG-X, which critics have praised since its release in September 2021, the MG-X Made For iPhone® provides gamers with all the classic controls of a controller while playing mobile games. And like the MG-X Pro Made for iPhone® released in December 2022, it is compatible with a wide range of iPhone® models, from the 6S to the latest, thanks to its adjustable holder and Bluetooth® connectivity. The controller connects easily to an iPhone® in mere seconds and lets you play all games available on Xbox Game Pass Ultimate™.

NACON MG-X features:

- The Xbox experience wherever you are: designed for Xbox and Made For iPhone® ideal for playing Xbox Game Pass Ultimate™* games and other compatible games in the Apple Store
- Pocket-sized controller: compact and durable, the MG-X Made For iPhone[®] is ideal for gamers on the go. Its textured surface guarantees maximum comfort
- Fully secure: the adjustable holder holds iPhones® securely and ensures maximum stability
- Wireless connection: easy to pair an iPhone® with the MG-X Made For iPhone® via Bluetooth®
- 20 hours battery life*: powerful rechargeable battery for long gaming sessions, charges via the included USB-C cable. LED indicator shows the battery level
- Universal compatibility: compatible with all iPhone® models from the 6S to recent models running iOS 14
- * Xbox Game Pass Ultimate not included.
-  Battery life will vary according to the game being played.

The MG-X Made For iPhone® is available now for a recommended retail price of €120.
