

Compagnie Chargeurs Invest* strengthens its executive committee

The Chargeurs group is announcing the appointment of Alexandre Vesperini as Director of Public affairs. Member of the executive committee, he will be in charge of relations with institutional players concerned by the Group's portfolio of activities, in France and abroad, where Chargeurs generates 94% of its consolidated revenue.

This appointment aligns with the new strategic roadmap defined by Michaël Fribourg, Chairman and CEO, which is the valuation of the industrial and financial culture of the Group, renamed Compagnie Chargeurs Invest, and the strengthening of its thematic platforms (Culture & Education, Fashion & Know-how, Innovative Materials).

Alexandre Vesperini, 37, is a graduate of Sciences Po Paris. After working with political figures at the European Parliament (2007-2009) and the French National Assembly (2009-2012; 2014-2017), he was a member of the Paris Council (2014-2020), where he chaired a political group and monitored major matters related to Paris, the world's cultural and economic capital.

Until now, he worked as Consulting Director for Lysios, a pure-player consulting firm dedicated to institutional consultancy based in Paris and Brussels. In this capacity, he supported numerous industrial groups in their dialogue with all stakeholders involved in public decision-making process.
