STMicroelectronics' participation at MWC 2020 Barcelona and Embedded World Nuremberg

Geneva, February 12, 2020 – STMicroelectronics has been closely following the situation related to the novel coronavirus outbreak in China and has taken a number of precautionary measures to ensure the health and safety of its employees worldwide. As an additional measure, the company has taken the decision to withdraw from exhibiting at MWC 2020 in Barcelona and at Embedded World in Nuremberg later this month.

The invitation-only analyst and media event at MWC 2020, hosted by ST executive management, is confirmed to take place at La Fira at the scheduled date and time. As already planned, the presentation and Q&A will be available live at <http://investors.st.com>.

We thank the GSMA and the NürnbergMesse GmbH for their understanding and we look forward to attending and supporting their events in the future.
