MERSEN SELECTED BY CATL TO SUPPLY ADVANCED FUSES FOR BATTERY SYSTEMS

PARIS, NOVEMBER 13, 2025 – Mersen (Euronext FR0000039620 – MRN), a global expert in electrical power and advanced materials, has been recognized for its expertise in electrical protection by Contemporary Amperex Technology Co., Limited (CATL), the world's largest power battery manufacturer.

Mersen will leverage this expertise and its manufacturing facilities in China to supply CATL with custom-designed fuses across seven different domains serving a diverse range of end-markets including electric vehicles, storage systems, rail, and aviation, among others.

Philippe Griaud, VP Electrical Vehicle Business at Mersen, said: "We are proud to take this important new step with CATL, a global leader in battery technology. This partnership reflects Mersen's unique expertise in electrical power, our strong local manufacturing footprint, and the trusted relationship our teams in China have built with CATL. It stands as a testament to the quality and competitiveness of our cutting-edge solutions and reinforces our commitment to driving electrification and transitioning to renewable energy through innovation, collaboration, and shared ambition for a more sustainable future."
